

CARNIBALS ONCE ROAMED PLAINS

Anthropologists Say Nomadic Race Different From Indians Lived in Texas.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 14.—Evidence that Texas was inhabited by a prehistoric people different from the Indians who roamed the plains when the first white man came has been unearthed by James P. Pearce, professor of anthropology of the University of Texas. The early inhabitants, he said, lived a nomadic life, roaming from one part of the wilderness to another, killing with rude stone weapons, animals and even humans for food.

In co-operation with the Smithsonian Institution Bureau of Ethnology, Prof. Pearce has been investigating the mounds for more than a year, he reported.

"The life history of these people has been read from the records they left in their burned-rock mounds or kitchen middens," the professor said. "These mounds are piles of broken and charred bits of limestone three or four feet high and sometimes as long as 100 feet. They are made up of the kitchen refuse of these prehistoric people who had regular camp sites at frequent intervals along the Edwards plateau, extending from Austin westward to New Mexico.

"These people evidently were advanced to the stage of neolithic culture, an earlier age than the period of neolithic culture to which most of the American Indians belonged. These early Texas inhabitants had arrows and spears tipped with flint points, chipped but not polished. They did not polish their stone weapons, nor did they engage in any form of agriculture. They were, however, skillful skin dressers for we have found skin scrapers made of flint.

"The kitchen middens which we discovered are the only thing of their kind in America, so far as I know, although they have been found in other parts of the world. At these sites, camps were located with a great variety of implements. Bones of the deer which were prevalent in this region are found in profusion, indicating that this was the principal article of diet."

Prof. Pearce said he was assisted in his researches by Peter Fekkes, head of the Smithsonian Bureau of Ethnology, and that the report of the investigation will be published by the Smithsonian Institution. The University of Texas will retain possession of a collection of material unearthed. This work, Prof. Pearce said, the nucleus for a museum in anthropology.

When the present investigation on the Edwards plateau has been concluded work will be started upon the "funeral mounds" in East Texas, which are the work of an entirely different race of people, according to Prof. Pearce. These people, he said, lived in a later period. Their pottery and polished weapons have been found in the mounds.

"We know these people were cannibals for among the refuse bones have been found human bones split apart in order to get at the marrow.

"The soft limestone slabs, being exposed to the weather, broke from time to time and were cast aside near-by to be replaced by new ones.

"In the course of our investigations we have completely examined some fifteen of these mounds and from them have found thousands of splendid specimens of chipped arrow and spear heads, as well as scraping tools and other implements. Bones of the deer which were prevalent in this region are found in profusion, indicating that this was the principal article of diet."

Medics To Establish Schools For Deaf
And Dumb Of Nation

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Medical associations of the United States have inaugurated a nation-wide campaign for the treatment and education of children who are deaf or dumb or both. A joint committee including members from the American Medical Association, the American Association of Physicians and Surgeons, the American Association of Otolaryngologists and Rhinologists, and the American Association of Neurologists and Psychiatrists, has been appointed to draw up plans.

Assistance of state medical societies, hospitals, health and from congress will be sought in order that the campaign may be made quickly effective. It is planned to list all children suffering from defective oral or auditory organs, to establish day schools for these special pupils and finally to standardize the course of instruction, according to the most modern methods.

SHE RODE TO CONCORD AND GOT BEHIND BARS

BOSTON, July 14. (By International News Service.)—Miss Paul Revere is the name given by the police to Flora Sanford, sixteen-year-old runaway from Lancaster, arrested in Somerville.

The girl told the police she started to walk to Somerville, because tired and returned to the school, hiding in a hayloft until darkness. She then took a horse, she said, and rode to Concord, when the horse became lame and she put it up at a local stable. She reached Somerville about midnight, spending the time in riding in a street car. She was returned to Lancaster. This is her fourth escape.

TWENTIETH OF WORLD'S DIAMONDS ARE PERFECT

CHICAGO, July 14. (By International News Service.)—The diamond you gave your sweetheart looks like a perfect stone, it seems like a perfect stone to her, and she went into ecstasies over it. If anyone told her it was not a perfect diamond she would be not a perfect diamond? But it doubtless is not a perfect diamond for it is not a perfect diamond to call anything as pure and beautiful as a diamond imperfect. A diamond is perfect enough to fit into the average human conception of perfection, perfectly perfect in color, brilliancy and fact remains that only about 2 percent of the diamonds of the world are absolutely perfect in color, brilliancy and fact. The variations in diamonds in their approach to perfection are the reason that the same carat size differ so widely in price. You can buy a single-carat diamond for $350 or for $1,000. It depends upon the quality of crystallized carbon. A completely perfect diamond is almost priceless.

Yellowstone Park
Vandals Have Rough
Time With The Law

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., July 14.—Unthinking tourists who deface the beautiful natural formations of Yellowstone National Park by writing their names and crude sentiments in geyser bowls and on hot springs terraces are meeting with quick discipline this year.

Under an effective system of registration, every tourist entering the park now is being checked in on arrival and checked out on departure and his method of travel noted. If in his own automobile, the state number of the machine is recorded. With such information available, conversations like the following sometimes are heard over the park telephone system:

"Hello, hello, is this the north entrance? All right, Chief Ranger's office speaking. John Q. Blank, traveling in automobile with state license No. 12345, wrote his name yesterday in Old Faithful basin. Hold him when he checks out."

And when the automobile arrives at the north gate, or any other of the park's four entrances, Mr. Blank or Mrs. Blank or Miss Blank if they should offend, for women are not exempt, is fetched back to headquarters and told politely but firmly that such vandalism will not be tolerated. The offender is willing to remedy the damage by effacing the writing, the incident may be allowed to end there. Otherwise, the law takes its course before a United States commissioner resident in the park. Heavy penalties are provided by statute for injuring the formations in any way.

In all justice to American tourists, however, Yellowstone officials say they have a minimum of difficulty in enforcing the regulations.

CLUB DECORATES
CANINE WAR HERO

PHILADELPHIA, July 14. (By International News Service.)—Among the war heroes decorated over the country at Independence day exercises was a three-legged dog which saw service in France as a mascot of the One Hundred and Ninth Infantry. The animal was presented with a silver medal by the French government. The medal was provided by the Women's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The dog accompanied a soldier named Melton to France. Both were wounded, the dog having a leg shot off. Melton, before his death in a hospital, gave the dog to a buddy, and the latter, upon his return, gave the dog to a Philadelphia woman. The dog catchers recently captured the dog, and when it was claimed by his owner its history was revealed.

WASHINGTON MAN RUNS
"OLD HORSES' HOME"

WASHINGTON, July 14.—An "old horses' home" and a "vacation" farm for horses are both to be found on the hospitable acres of L. C. Probert, a Washington newspaper man, at "Horse-lard farm," only 10 miles from the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Probert have for years been active members of the Washington Humane society. When Mr. Probert bought a farm recently they realized they had the opportunity to put some of their good wishes for dilapidated horses into practice.

Accordingly, Mr. Probert has made a standing offer to take care of any horses condemned to die, so they may have a little more of "horse heaven" before they go and in give other tired animals the "vacation" that many owners nowadays are granting their horses with their employees.

A. L. A. AFTER 75,000
VOLUMES FOR BLIND

NEW YORK, July 14. (By International News Service.)—Production of more books for the 75,000 blind persons in the United States in the new form Braille type taught to soldiers, sailors and marines made sightless in the war, is being encouraged by the American Library association in its nation-wide "Books for Everybody" movement, as the enlarged program is known. There are now fewer than 200 books published in this accepted type and the A. L. A. will help in producing a much larger number in order that the light of literature, technical vocal and fiction, may penetrate the darkness of the afflicted.

"Books for Everybody" movement is designed to promote the general extension of library and books service to the 50,000,000 persons in the nation who are without such facilities. For its main-tenance a fund of $2,000,000 is being raised by librarians, library trustees and friends of libraries without recourse to the usual intensive public drive.

Find Pueblo Cliff Dwellers Founded The Aztec Culture

NEW YORK, July 14.—Additional indication that the Pueblo Indian cliff dwellers at Aztec, N. M., founded the Aztec and Benito culture has been uncovered by new excavations of the American Museum of Natural History. It was announced here today.

Discovery of a sealed room in perfect condition at the Pueblo ruin in Aztec, surpassing in beauty and state of preservation any previously found in America, were reported to the museum by Dr. Clark Wissler, curator of anthropology.

The interior of the sealed room is plastered and painted in brilliant white with dull red side borders and a running series of triangular designs. Dr. Wissler reported. A sacred serpent, carved in wood, decorated the ceiling. It is 2 1/2 feet long and of the finest workmanship. On the ceiling beams are imprints of hands in white paint. Several strands of finely made rope hang down and on the floor are a large number of red stone slabs, one of which was 2 1/2 by 1 1/2 feet and 1 1/2 inches thick.

Several adjoining rooms, seeming to bear a relation to this sealed one, are yet to be uncovered. Dr. Wissler stated. Continuing on the Aztec excavations, he said:

"Since the greater part of the west side is now uncovered, and can get a full sweep over this immense complex of stone walls and vaulted doorways. Our November 11th, the Illinois Equal Suffrage association is pushing forward a drive to bring about a record-breaking registration and vote by the women of the state.

The campaign is to include women of all parties and the association declares it is to be conducted from a strictly patriotic standpoint. The state is to be thoroughly circulated by pledge cards reading:

"Peace patriotism is as important as war patriotism. Therefore, I will demonstrate my patriotism by voting for my country at the presidential election in November."

Efforts are being made to convince the women that a voter who does not vote is not intelligent. The use of the ballot is a slacker both in citizenship and patriotism.

For that purpose, the correspondent quotes him as saying, "The correspondent drew up a special understanding which was made public in America some time ago. Some of the powers mistake the concessions made as a sign of weakness and dispatched expeditionary forces to Russia. The result was a complete failure on their part, financially, militarily and morally."

Trying To Get Every Woman In State Of Illinois To Vote

CHICAGO, Ill., July 14.—With the slogan, "Every woman at the polls in November," the Illinois Equal Suffrage association is pushing forward a drive to bring about a record-breaking registration and vote by the women of the state.

WARTLESS PICKLE SEED BRING NUMEROUS KICKS

CEDAR GROVE, N. J., July 14. (By International News Service.)—A little farm running alongside the Erie railroad near here is owned by Peter Dink, and of late Peter has received 2,000 letters, more or less, the greater part of them registering "kicks."

Dink is the man who discovered the bumpless cucumber.

Last year scientists and agriculturists from all over the country came to view these incipient pickles, and the owner owned a small fortune from the sale of seeds.

It now appears that others have been unable to produce bumpless cucumbers from Dink's seeds.

An investigation this week has shown that Peter Dink has the cucumber bumpless cucumbers in his garden alongside of the Erie. Some of the letters have asked if it is the jar from trains that keeps the bumps from Dink's cucumbers.

"Suckers" Make Spuds Grow Well On Manitowish Farms

WINNIPEG, Man., July 14. (By International News Service.)—Suckers are the reason for the success of the wonderful potato crop around Dryden, in Ontario, Canada, says a local farmer. Back of that simple statement lies a pictorial tragedy.

"Suckers, by the million infest Lake Winnipeg," said John Braddon, of Dryden, a farming center along the Canadian National railway. These fish, weighing two and three pounds, and no good to eat go up the creeks to spawn. Every little stream emptying into the lake swarms with them in May. We don't waste time catching them with a hook and line or even with a seine. We use a pitchfork or a shovel. It's no trick at all to wade out into the shallows and shovel out a couple of wagonloads of suckers in an hour.

Partners at potato planting time bury a sucker in each hill of potatoes. The fish are rich in phosphate, which is the basic element of all good fertilizer. Our potato crop are phenomenal. One man in the district raised 1,014 bushels to the acre last year. A number of others did almost as well. In most parts of the world 400 bushels to the acre are considered a bumper crop. These worthless suckers are making the farmers in the Lake Winnipeg district rich.

EVEN JAPAN HAS HER ENOCH ARDENS

TOKYO, July 14.—A letter has been received from a man reported killed in the Russo-Japanese war in North Manchuria by his supposed widow, who has been married to a second husband for nearly 10 years.

A sergeant named Jinkichi Onishi has been missing since the battle of Liaoyang. The authorities as well as the family of the soldier are convinced that he had been killed in the field, and funeral ceremonies were observed. His "widow" subsequently married a second husband, and now, nearly 17 years since the "dead" soldier's husband was reported, he writes reporting himself safe in a hospital in Petrograd.

Onishi was taken prisoner at the time of the Russo-Japanese war, he was taken prisoner and has ever since been confined in a dungeon, which he was never allowed to leave until, after 17 years' confinement, he fell ill and was removed to a hospital in Petrograd.
